DPM game to send Economist letter?
She is mulling it over
(The latter half of the article about our internet bills is a bit of distraction)

I think you drive by that, & just address EA/current situation.
The premise is completely wrong - that our response to the blockades is to curb free speech and 'crack down' on mostly peaceful protesters. We're helping law enforcement end an illegal occupation & blockades across the country that have lasted weeks, using a law that exists for these circumstances which we've clearly explained, & defending all rights guaranteed by the charter.
